NEVADA COUNTY MINE PAYROLL $303,000 MONTHLY

FRECHETTE SAYS GOODBYE; GOES EAST IN IRONS

Clarence Frechette, confessed Michigan murderer, of his employer, Robert Brown, was yesterday turned over to Michigan authorities by Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen. Stanley Berriman, district attorney, Claude Fawcett sheriff and Leon Bassett, deputy sheriff, of Livingston county, took the "honor" slayer into custody for the long trip in the slain man's car, to save the state of Michigan the expense of a trip by train.

Sheriff Fawcett declared that it had already cost his county $500 to come west by train with his party. "Anyway," he stated, "we have to get the car back there to be used as evidence." Fawcett took the wheel as the party left the court house. Frechette wearing leg irons and steel bracelets, climbed clumsily into the rear seat with Deputy Sheriff Bassett, while District Attorney Stanley Berriman rode in front with the sheriff.

Prior to their departure, a large crowd gathered in front of the court house. A news photographer for the Associated Press took several pictures of Sheriff Carl Tobiassen as he escorted Frechette to the car. As he was about to get into the car, the newsman asked for one more shot of Frechette at the rear of the car, where the trunk in which the frozen body of his victim had been found, stood with open lid.

"Now look into the trunk Clarence," directed the photographer. Frechette muttered something of a rebellious character and lifted his eyes to the sky.

"Look into the trunk. Anyway look down at the license plate, that'll do." This time Frechette did look at the license plate and had his last picture in California taken.

Frechette had already waived all extradition rights, and had agreed to go back to Michigan immediately with the authorities who arrived here from Michigan Tuesday. For this reason it was no longer necessary to hold the hearing scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

CIVIC CLUB TO HEAR TULLY KNOLES FEB. 25

The Nevada City Lodge of Elks has generously donated its hall to the Nevada City Woman's Civic Club for its meeting on Monday evening, February 25. Dr. Tully C. Knoles peresident of the College of the Pacific, will be the speaker of the evening and the public is invited to attend. The members of the Civic Club feel that when they secure so well known and distinguished a speaker as Dr. Knoles, that they would like to give the public the benefit of hearing him and the Elks have so generously cooperated by lending their hall without any charge. It is only to such affairs of public benefit the Elks permit their hall to be used by others than the lodge.

Dr. Knoles, who is a scholar and a student on international affairs, is known throughout the United States for his keen interpretations and deep knowledge of international affairs. The Civic Club considers itself and the citizens of Nevada City fortunate in having this opportunity of hearing him. Several years ago Dr. Knoles spoke during Educational Week on an educational subject and those who heard him then are anticipating with great interest on hearing him again.

Preceding Dr. Knole's talk will be several musical numbers. Mr. T. Caldwell will give a violin repetoire and Mrs. P. J. Bonner will render several solos, accompanied by Miss Brand with violin obligato by Mr. Caldwell.

MERCHANTS PLAY LAST LEAGUE GAME TOMORROW

The Nevada City Merchants will play their last league game here tomorrow night at Armory Hall, when they tangle with the Leland Painter quint from Grass Valley. It is expected that the game will be a close one, as the Painter team has added strength and consistency to its game in the past few weeks. There will be both A and B games. The B game will start promptly at 7 o'clock, in order that the playing may be over for the Valentine dance to be given at the hall on the same evening.

The B squad expects to preserve its fine record of only one league game lost during the season. The B squad is composed of Hoskins, Spaffi, Chapman, "Cap" Davis, Don Budie, and Jack Clarke. Dan Ungaro is coach and manager for both A and B teams.

Next Saturday the Merchants will meet the College of Pacific cagers on the Armory Hall court, in what promises to be one of the most hotly contested games of the season.

SAN JUAN LEAGUE GOES AFTER NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

The regional superintendent of school biulding adaquacy will visit Nevada City next Thursday. He has been asked by the San Juan Ridge Improvement League to make the recommendations regarding the school at San Juan. The League is considering asking PWA aid in financing a new building and will hold a meetng next Wednesday evening in the old I. O. O. F. hall when this subject will be debated. The League will also set the date for the second dance of the series which has been programmed for the benefit of its several enterprises.

EDDIE LEONG'S RUMORED DEATH PROVES FALSE

The rumor concerning the violent death of Eddie Leong, former proprietor of a grocery store in Nevada City, was given its final refutation yesterday by the report of Irving Long, Metropolitan Life Insurance agent for this district, when he stated that there had been no claim made for payment of the policy which Leong carries in that company, and that premiums are being received regularly.

NATIVE OF FRANCE PASSES

John Trupes, aged 42, died at the county hospital Wednesday. He had been in the hospital for the past 7 months and was beloved by all who knew him. He was a World War veteran and familiarly known to his friends in town and at the hospital as "Frenchie". Services were held in the hospital chapel, burial taking place in the hospital cemetery.

MIGHTY NIMROD SHOOTS LION

Frank Clark, of Downieville, killed a three-fourths grown female mountain lion on Grizzly Ridge Peak, which is three miles southwest of the above city, yesterday.

Mr. Clark was trying out his new dog. The lion was treed in an hour after he started out. Bounty on a female mountain lion is $30, so the trip was well worth while for Mr. Clark.

Mrs. Grant Goodale, of Los Angeles, spent yesterday in Nevada City visiting her sister, Mrs. Christian Andersen.

J. E. Merriam, Jr., of New York state, has just come up from Hollywood and is spending a few days as the guest of Major and Mrs. Leroy Delaney in Nevada City. He is on his way to the Grizzly Ridge mine in which his father is interested.

UNIFORM HOUSE NUMBERS ASKED BY N. C. CHAMBER

Uniform house numbering for Nevada City was a topic discussed Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce. Owing to the influx of new population, it was pointed out, the old system has broken down completely. From the Gault bridge the same set of numbers are used both north and south of the bridge on Pine street. This and other discrepancies lead to confusion. George Calanan has appointed a committee to take the matter up with the city council.

Supervisor Cary Arbogast stated that an agreement had been made with the Lava Cap Company, of which Otto E. Schiffner is superintendent, under which the county will undertake to lay rock ballast on the road from Town Talk eastward to the junction of the roads leading to the Central and Banner mines of the Lava Cap. There is a prospect that the road will be made an SERA project.

A vote of thanks was given Ed. C. Uren for the splendid work he has done in engineering for the Nevada City airport and in the assistance he has given in securing Federal interest and funds in the project. He reported that he has just completed plans for the completion of this work, which will consist of laying down crushed rock along with oil and a weed killer.

Judge Raglan Tuttle reported that the committee appointed by Fred Cassidy, president of the chamber, had forward to the PWA headquarters in San Francisco, the high and grammar school and other projects. This was in compliance with the request of PWA Engineer A. D. Wilder, who desired to have full data in hand by February 11, anticipating the action of Congress in appropriating $4,800,000,000 for PWA. This measure, however, had not yet been adopted by Congress on that date.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AT THE H. S. ASSEMBLY

At an assembly last Wednesday afternoon at the high school, Mr. H. E. Kjorlie made the following announcements: There will be a high school music concert next Thursday, February 21. The high school band and orchestra will play a group of classical, semi-classical, and popular musical compositions under the direction of Leslie Sweeney, high school music instructor. The Quill, high school annual publication is scheduled to go on sale May 15th.

The Senior Play, under the direction if Miss Olive Kreutz, will be presented May 16th.

After the announcements were made, the mixed chorus, under the direction of Miss Kreutz, sang two selections, entitled "There's a Ghost Round de Corner" composed by Noble Cain, and "Rosetta" by Paul Dupont.

SCOUTS MEET WITH NEW SCOUTMASTER

The meeting Monday night of Nevada City's Boy Scout troop, was attended by about thirty members. Frank Wright assumed his new duties as scout master. Sheriff Carl Tobiassen and Dr. C. W. Chapman, and Horace Curnow, all members of the scout council, gave short, invigorating talks to the boys. Plans were discussed concerning the representation of the troop at Roseville camporee which will take place later this month.

NEW MINING COMPANY RECENTLY FORMED

After an eventful history of mining experiences over a number of years, Captain George A Nffell bonded his property to J. A. Rust, of Folsom, about six months ago. Mr. Rust has formed a company of Sacramento and Folsom men. These men have incorporated under the laws of California forming a corporation known as the Deer Creek Union Mining Corporation, whose office is in Sacramento with Mr. Samuel Holsinger as president, and E. D. Rasterfer as secretary and treasurer. Mr. J. A. Rust is resident manager of the corporation. The company is now reopening the drain tunnel preparatory to reestablishing the three compartment shaft.

Electric power is to be installed immediately and the mine is to be reopened as rapidly as possible. For the present, labor does not need to apply as the company has all the men required to do the work.

DEATH SUMMONS PIONEER WOMAN

Miss Mary Brown, well-beloved native of Nevada county, was yesterday called by death at the age of 80 years, after a three month's illness. She was the daughter of early Nevada county settlers who came here in 1850 and made their home in Nevada City. Her father owned the General Meat Market here many years ago.

Miss Brown had been residing with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Church at the Buckeye ranch near here. She is sincerely mourned by her friends in this community, as she was a prominent and honored member of Laurel Parlor, N. D. G. W., in whose affairs she had taken an active part for 17 years. She was also a grand niece of Commodore Sloat. Laurel Parlor will conduct the funeral services. Rev. Buckner, of Nevada City will preach the funeral sermon.

Besides her sister, Mrs. M. B. Church, of Nevada county, Miss Brown leaves a number of nieces and nephews in Sweetland, Oroville, Vacaville and Sacramento, to mourn her passing. The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock from the Holmes-Hooper Funeral Home in Grass Valley.

MR. HENRY WERGLAND RECEIVES PROMOTION

Mr. Heny Wergland of the Tahoe National Forest Service, who has been stationed here for a little over a year, has been promoted to the position of chief clerk of the Sequoia National Park with headquarters at Porterville He made a trip to Porteville after being appointed but is now in Nevada City. He will leave with his family in a few days to take over his new post. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wergland regret to have them leave Nevada City but wish them well in the new location. Mr. and Mrs. Wergland, who have been residing on West Broad street, have many friends. Mr. Wergland was elected vestry man at the last parish meeting of Trinity Episcopal church. Mr. Wergland's successor comes from the Forestry Department of the Lassen Park.

AUTO ACCIDENT SUIT SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Miss Virginia Day, of Nevada City brought suit through Jones and Finnegan for injuries received in an auto accident on August 5th of last year near Newcastle, while riding with Clyde Browning and Miss Rachel Wiggin.

The case was settled out of court Wednesday in Auburn by payment on part of the defendants of a substantial sum of money.

Employment Peak In Mining, 2171 Men

The number of men now employed in Nevada county mines and with a payroll of $303,000 per month, constitutes a new peak in mining employment in recent years. The Lava Cap and Idaho Maryland both registered a considerable increase in the working forces during the past month. The Republic Gold Mining Company, formerly the Empress, has made a 30 per cent increase in the number of miners employed. Bullion has stepped its operations up to the employment of 60 men. In addition to these increases on properties already in operation, the following properties have either resumed operation or initiated new work: Maben, Spenceville, Clerkin, Icard Ranch, School Boy, Pennsylvania, and Salmon. On these properties 37 men are employed.

In round numbers 170 more men are employed now than were at work in the mines a month ago. The last survey made by the Nevada City Nugget in its issue of January 18, showed 2002 men employed. Today the survey reveals 2171 miners at work. The payroll, a month ago, was $280,280, and today the total is $303,940.

The outlook for increased activity in both quartz and gravel properties during the next two or three months is bright. Once the U. S. Supreme Court renders its decision in the gold contract cases which are now before, mining men anticipate a long period of prosperity.

From time to time rumors are heard concerning the resumption of work in the Champion group of mines, but to date these have proved without foundation in fact. Engineers and business men familiar with the record of Champion mines believe that reopening of this extraordinary property will be the next big development in Nevada county. It is acknowledged that abundant capital will be necessary to finance the opening and resumption of production in the Champion, but with more settled conditions pertaining to gold mining, it is regarded as almost certan that sufficient funds can be obtained.

Heavy snows in the higher altitudes have somewhat hampered placer mining, and some of the properties that were working last month are temporarily withdrawn from the above active list. The following reports of mine operations have been made:

SPANISH MINE

Work has been resumed in putting in raises and blocking out ore in the lower shaft of the Spanish mine above Washington, with a crew of three. There are 40 men employed at the upper and lower workings. Mr. Bert Harden is general superintendent, directing operations, and is assisted by James Huffman, mill superintendent. The tonnage of ore being mined daily is 80 tons. A boarding house at the lower camp cares for nearly all the men. Five families are living at the upper workings.

MINING IN BAGUIO

There was a most interesting article in a recent Western Mining News in regard to "The Activities of Benguet Consolidated," in the Baguio district, a day's journey from Manila. In a mention of division foreman he speaks of three former Nevada City men, the first two being born and reared here, J. LaMar Fleming, Merton B. Downey and F. Knouse. Two other men who held responsible positions with the 16-To

CONFIDENTIAL

A bill has been introduced in the California Legislature which would exempt newspaper men from revealing their source of information to courts or inquisitorial bodies.

It may appear selfish for us to declare that we believe the proposal is a good one. Newspaper men are, of course, in favor of the proposal.

A newspaper man comes into possession of much information for which he is willing to take responsibility under the civil and criminal libel laws but which he s unwilling to pass on to his readers if he is likely to be called upon to betray a confidence and reveal the source of his information.

Some newspaper men have gone to jail rather than betray confidence from which has come information published for the benefit of the public.

The state of New Jersey has enacted a law that protects newspaper men in concealing the sources of their information. Similar bills have been introduced in a dozen legislatures now in session.

Many a person is willing to give information to a newspaper but is unwilling to have it known that he gave the information. Were he assured that his identity would not be revealed under any conditions he would be much freer with his information and the public would profit—Hollywood Citizen News.

ON TRAINING THE MIND

By PROFESSOR LEON J. RICHARDSON

Are you able to s wim? How few swim well! With noisy splashing one man manages to propel himself a few feet before making a forced landing; another with graceful motions goes far. By mastering the technique of a good stroke we apply our strength effectively and, as the captains of the submarines say, "have good cruising range." Powers of this kind arise from training and practice.

Similarly, all people use their minds, but how few use them well! Few are capable of sustained thinking, and so following a chain of evidence to a sure conclusion. Such powers result from training and practice.

But if the ingredients of a good intellect be not within us, how shall we become wise? Fortunately, to desire the things of the spirit is itself evidence of endowment. One should try to form good mental habits. Herein the will comes into play. A common experience is to undertake a line of work and presently to find oneself growing fond of it. With few exceptions, what we will to do, we eventually like to do. Then, with the doing, we begin to acquire skill. Power, whether mental or physical, is gained in part through suggestion or imitation. We should, therefore, have before us good models. So, the man who aspires to make the most of his mind will do well, as opportunity offers, to associate with persons of promise, of ability, and originality. If he finds such persons scarce, he may come to know many through their works, through the books they have written, the pictures they have painted, and the songs they have sung. While association gives inspiration, the essential work in this field must be done by the man himself for himself.

No enterprise in the wide range of human experience can rank with training the mind. If, therefore, we have received from heaven nothing so good as the mind, what should be more worthy of exercise and cultivation? No other adventure is to be compared with it. Through it civilization and all man's higher achievements have been won. The report of a gun does not carry so far as the music of the lyre. To pursue intellectual ideals, unlike the privilege of galloping with a king in a royal game park, is a glorious adventure open to every man who cares to live richly and well.

PLEA MADE FOR UNIFIED STATE ROAD SYSTEM

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 14.—"Let's make the gasoline tax support all the highways in California, and let's free homes and farms from all road taxes."

This is the gist of hundreds of letters from all parts of California praising Governor Merriam's proposal to abolish county road taxes and unfiy all the roads in California under the State Department of Public Works. The letters are being received by State Director of Public Works Earl Lee Kelly from prominent citizens in all the counties accepting appointment to the Governor's Citizens Unified Highways Committee supporting the proposed legislation which will abolish road taxes against common property and make the gas tax do the whole job.

The legislation sponsored by the Department of Public Works at the request of Governor Merriam, will abolish all county road taxes, place highway maintenance and construction under the State Department of Public Works and route all gas tax revenues through to the state highways, except ½c to the cities. The Governor's road bill doubled the money given cities for roads.

One letter, which Director Kelly would not reveal, declared that the writer desired to present evidence to the legislature that in his own county, there are five separate road departments equipped with duplicate machinery—one department for each county supervisor.

"The state is not criticising the county supervisors in their administration of road funds," Director Kelly said. "We believe, however, that the state can do a better job than 57 different varieties of road departments."

"What kind of oil do you use in your car?"

"Oh, I usually begin by telling them I'm lonely."

Have You Heard ?

BY

Katie Lewis

FRENCH CORRAL, Feb. 15.—Have you heard of the wooden clock in England that has run for four centuries?

No kidding! A clock constructed entirely of wood has been ticking merrily away, keeping perfect time since Columbus sailed westward.

The clock, owned by a private family, has the simplest of movements, consisting of three cogged wooden wheels. I am astounded by its simplicity as well as its record.

My ninety-eight cent alarm clock with its "never rust" case, delicate steel main-spring and other intricate inards, should sit up and take notice. I haven't had it a year yet every time I lift it a fraction of an inch from the bureau, it comes to a dead stop.

When it goes off in the morning I slide carefully out of bed, put on a pair of kid gloves and very gently press the lever that controls the alarm. Some day I am going to trade it off for a rooster.

A 24-year-old Japanese man who can dislocate every joint in his body without feeling pain is being studied by physicians.

When he was fourteen years old, he found that he could dislocate his fingers. So he practiced on other joints in his body. Now he can turn himself into hunchback or so flex his backbone that it can be bent in any direction. He can, in fact, "tie himself in knots" and flap his ears as well as any animal.

If he lived in this country we would elect him to Congress. He should be a big help to the boys when it comes to squirming out of difficult issues.

Stop me if you've heard this one.

Amoret Missouri, like larger cities, has its mysteries. Workmen cut down a large maple tree and found a corn knife imbedded in a limb and the townfolk are sitting up nights debating how the tree managed it.

Regardless of circumstances, the tree should be closely watched. When we run short of trusty steel during our wars, the scientists may be able to make maple trees produce swords instead of pounding up the useful plows.

And as a speaker of nonsense I am rapidly running Lloyd Huffery, 21, of Kansas, a close second. A nervous ailment caused him to talk four days without stopping to eat or sleep. The only difference between us is that he made statements and answered questions intelligently and was ready to quit at the end of the four days.

The next three weeks for the Tahoe scouts and scouters promise to be as full of activities as the past moth with week-end snow trips to Camp Pahatsi, preparations for the Ninth Annual Rally, March 2, the annual council meeting for the election of officers for the coming year, each troop participating in the 25th Anniversary of scouting week programs and the meeting of troop committees to diseminate information regarding the National Jamboree at Washington, D. C., in August.

Snow trips to Camp Pahatsi are again proving very popular, quite a number of troops have not as yet applied for dates to use the lodge. So far this winter the lodge has been used to the extent of 378 camper days and reservations are already made up to and including March 23.

Nearly every troop in the area has participated in at least one Anniversary week program. The council office has been advised of 26 such meetings celebrating the 25th Anniversary of Scouting in the United States. President Franklin D. Roosevelt, feeling the value of this work publicly addressed not only 1,000,000 scouts and scouters over the radio last Friday, but called attention of the nation to the importance of this program scouting.

The Ninth Annual Rally of the scouts of this area will be held at the Roseville Union high school gymnasium Saturday, March 1. Loomis troop No. 12 again is in the field working to win the Landis Cup for the 5th time. The attendance of friends of scouting increases each year and last year close to 1,000 people viewed the scouting activities. This year it is expected 150 Cubs will attend and participate.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE TO MEET MRS. ADELE OUST

The California chapters of the Women of the Moose are doing splendid work, according to Mrs. Adele Oust, of Visalia, California, who has arrived to visit the local chapters in Grass Valley as a representative of Miss Katherine Smith Grand Recorder, who directs the activities of the Women of the Moose throughout the country. Mrs. Martha Dillon hopes to revive this excellent order locally.

"So many fine things have been done for the dependent children of deceased members of the Moose fraternity at Mooseheart," said Mrs. Oust, "that we women are trying to carry standards established there into the homes of the members of the fraternity, as well as our communities, through the various phases of our chapter work.

"Mooseheart is built on the theory that 'Every Child is Entitled to At Least a High School Education and Trade,' which was first voiced by Mr. Davis, who, as Secretary of Labor in the Cabinet of three Presidents, was a member of the Federal Board of Vocational Education. More than forty vocations are offered to the boys and girls at Mooseheart and when they graduate from Mooseheart they are fitted to make a place for themselves in life. This year there were 162 graduates from thirty-one different states. California may be proud of the fact that three of these graduates came from the Golden State.

"California chapters have incorporated into their chapter programs, departments of publicity, social service, home making, child care and training, library, and membership, as a means through which Mooseheart standards may be brought into their own communities. The educational program offered through these departments is opened not only to members of the Women of the Moose but outsiders are invited to participate in the work.

"For instance, chapters learn the best methods of training their children through the child care and training study classes of the Women of the Moose. They learn, through their social service departments, how to assist the needy of their communities to the best advantage by cooperating with their local relief agencies. Through their home making departments they learn how to make their own clothes and how to cook meals with the most nourishment and the less cost. Activity in their library committees brings them closer to the value of libraries in a community and what the Women of the Moose can do to make the resources of the library available to a greater percentage of the population."

HUNTING MOUNTAIN LION AT ALLEGHANY

Ray Hawkins, of Alleghany, has just acquired a pack of lion dogs. Wednesday hearing that a big mountain lion had been seen in the vicinity of the city, he took out his dogs and accompanied by Mr. Johnson, took the trail. The big varmint, however, had too much of a start, and the party returned two hours later without the cat skin trophy.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cleland, of Cleland's Service Station, and little daughter, Naomi, are visiting this week in Victorville, southern California.

Mrs. C. E. Bosworth, Mrs. Nellie Clark, Mrs. Theodore Rundy and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Fouyer, all of Nevada City, attended the St. Catherines Guild card party in Grass Valley Tuesday evening. Mrs. Rundy won first prize in auction bridge.

Buster Trent, who is visiting his father and sister, at Auburn, made a business trip to Nevada City early this week.

Mr. Joseph Day, of Nevada City, has been appointed agricultural census enumerator for the Rough and Ready and Bridgeport township by supervisors of the agricultural census, Charles Loftus of Red Bluff.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jackson Jr., spent last week end in San Francisco visiting with Mrs. J. J. Jackson, Sr.

Attorney H. E. McKee awoke Thursday morning to find four inches of fresh snow piled up on the old, making about 12 inches in all, at his home, McKeesport up on the Tahoe-Ukiah highway.

Attorney Harry McKee was called to Sacramento a few days ago to take care of a case in the Federal Court.

A. Lindwall is down from Sierra City to be treated by Dr. Sawyer for a severe iritis in his left eye.

"Boy, that was some blonde you had last night—where did you get her?"

"Can't remember exactly—I opened my pocketbook and there she was."

"Lady," said Weary Willie, "will you lend me a cake of soap?"

"Do you mean to tell me than you really want to use some soap?"

"Sure, lady. My pardner's got the hiccups and I wanna scare him."

Doctor: Sambo, I can think of only one thing that will cure you and that is an electric bath.

Sambo: No suh, Doc, not fo' me. Ah had a frien' that took one of them at a place called Sing Sing and it drowned him.

FINE WEEK END PROGRAM AT THE NEVADA THEATRE

Stepping out of his conventional cowboy role to display his talent as a comedian, Rex Bell, western star, comes to the screen of the Nevada Theatre in "Crashin' Broadway," uproarious story of the trials and tribulations of a theatrical troupe which is stranded in a small western town when the opera house burns down.

Containing the usual comedy ingredients of a western "Crashin' Broadway" takes an unexpected action twist when the burning of the theatre is found to be of incendiary origin. In a denouement engineered by Rex Bell as a stage-struck cowboy who has fallen for the leading lady of the vaudeville troupe, the criminals are brought to justice after a shooting and a gun battle in the saloon that serves as an improvised theatre.

Dorothea Wieck, the disturbing screen personality, recently brought to this country by Paramount, is currently co-!starring with Alice Brady in "Miss Fane's Baby Is Stolen," the first picture to hit the very center of the ruthless child-stealing racket.

But with the entire world answering her cry of anguish; with every means at her command for apprehending the fiendish criminals, it remains for a poor, self-effacing woman, the wife of a farmer, to bring about the baby's return. And the manner in which she captures the child, outwits the kidnapers and returns him to his mother, brings to the screen a most dramatic climax.

"THE GAY BRIDE"

Moving with the speed of a skyrocket as it sparkles across the heavens the hilarious new comedy farce, "The Gay Bride," featuring Carole Lombard and Chester Morris will show at the Nevada Theatre on Sunday.

And instead of fizzling after the first flare, the picture speeds along through one madcap situation after another.

The plot concerns a young adventuress who decides to go gold-digging among some of New York's most high-powered racketeers. When repeal comes in, the mobsters discover that the menace of police was a vacation compared to what a clever blonde could do with a band of "mugs."

Miss Lombard surpasses all of her previous efforts in the role of Mary, the blonde with a bank-account mind.

F. A. Elliott, of the Murchie mines, is in New York and will go to Empire, Canada for the Newmont company. Elliott is a flotation expert. L. W. Cheney has charge of the development work on Flat Ledge, Gracey and Glencoe properties for a group of Oakland men and has six men at work.

P. G. AND E. DRUM DIVISION WINS TROPHY AGAIN

Employees of Drum Division of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's operating territory are elated at the news that for two years in succession their division has won the trophy offered by President A. of the Hockenbeamer Sales Trophy ing made by a division during the year. The following message was received January 31 by Herbert Cooper, manager of Drum Division, at his headquarters in Auburn:

"Congratulations on your winning of th Hockenbeamer Sales Trophy for the year nineteen thirty-four two years in a row. My best wishes for nineteen thirty-five."

The idea of the Sales Trophy dates from 1929. The award is made to the division which best exceeds the sales quota allotted to it by the head office at the beginning of the year. It is all in the spirit of friendly rivalry and each year the employees working under the direction of the various division sales departments have bent their best energies toward bringing th etrophy home.

Drum Division takes in a large section of country in the counties of Placer, Nevada and Sierra, including historical mining districts that have experienced a boom of late. Being an up-country division it is no small feather in the caps of Manager Herbert Cooper and his active assistant to have competed successfully for two years in succession with the other eleven divisions that make up the P. G. and E. territory.

TEACHERS WILL INCULATE FAITH IN DEMOCRACY

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 11.—The members of the Northern California Teachers' Association will cooperate in the state wide program to encourage faith in the Democratic form of government among the children of California, it is announced by Fordyce Stewart, of Chico, president of the organization.

Stewart announces the teachers' organization is sponsoring anniversary programs on Washington's birthday in the schools, placing special emphasis upon ideals and benefits of democracy as opposed to the disadvantages of other forms of government.

The California Teachers' Association is arranging a statewide broadcast to supplement the school program on February 22.

Stewart and Mrs. Portia F. Moss, of Auburn, represented the Northern California teachers at a meeting in San Francisco where details of the plan were worked out.

UNIVERSAL WAR NEAR, DECLARES BIBLE LECTURER

This startling declaration is the subject of a lecture to be given by Mr. E. D. Orrell Sunday, February 17th, 2:30 p. m., at the Veteran's Memorial Bldg., Grass Valley. Mr. Orrell's assertions are based upon Bible prophecy and, speaking under the auspices of the Watch Tower, he says:

"Jehovah's Kingdom under Christ is the world's only hope for relief from distress and perplexity. Under this righteous rule people of good will shall enjoy boundless peace and prosperity. But before such blessings may come there must be a Universal War in which all oppressors of the people will be destroyed by Jehovah God.

"People have long wondered why God has permitted so much wickedness on the earth—Why he sent the great plagues upon ancient Egypt, and what relationship they have to the people of this day?—why the so called "Christian nations" engaged in the greatest war of all time and why the same nations are now arming for a war more deadly than the former? Which side will the churches take in this issue- What will the final outcome be, and what must one do to escape the impending catastrophe?"

These and many other questions, vital to the people, will be answered by Mr. Orrell.

JAN. FORD SALES 75,678 UNITS

DEARBORN, Mich., Feb. 14.—Domestic retail deliveries of Ford V-8 passenger cars and trucks for January totaled 75,678 units, an increase of 110 per cent over deliveries for the same month of 1934, it was announced today at the home offices of the Ford Motor Company. This is the highest total for any January in the past five years. It also exceeds deliveries in the combined months of January and February of last year.

Deliveries in January this year were exceeded in only three months in 1934. They were April, May and June, which are usually considered the peak months of the spring selling season.

Retail deliveries of Ford V-8 trucks were higher than for any any January since 1925.

The Ford Company recently announced its January world production of V-8 cars and trucks totaled 105,230 units. Domestic production for February has been set to exceed that of January.

Present production of Ford V-8 units is in excess of 5,000 daily.

LEGISLATIVE LETTER

by Graham Berry

(By WNU Service)

While legislators and congressmen are planning gigantic expenditures for relief or unemployed, relief of aged and relief of the sick and the halt, not one of the gentlemen who are having such a time racking their brains to find ways of spending the taxpayer's money, has given much thought to the poor fellow who is going to foot the bill.

The slogan seems to have been: "Millions for relief of everybody but those who are able to pay their taxes." The taxpayer, however, is learning how to take it. He resignedly listens to the proposed district, city, county, state and national expenditures—expenditures which, he is well aware, he must repay.

Most Californians are resigned to the Merriam budget, realizing that the expenditures must be made and that they should be paid for as they are being spent. The taxpayers have grown to feel that the depression and its aftermath is an unfortunate joke on them.

Just how far public expenditure can go and still maintain both the credit of the government and the good humor of the citizenry is a question that may be solved in the not far distant future. Aside from taxes, the paying of interest on public debts, state, county and national, is becoming a burden to the people. The per capita national debt, as estimated by President Roosevelt, will be $270 by 1936. This means that every man, woman and child in the United States owes this much and is paying interest on it.

The State of California's public debt is $209,000,000. California's 58 counties owe an aggregate of $200,000,000. This means Californians owe $68 apiece in addition to the $270 national debt. Since only about one-fourth of this per capita rating actually pays any bills as breadwinners, it can be correctly said that the head of each family in California owes $1,352 in addition to his own debts! And he is actually paying interest on this debt through taxation!

Keep Debts Down

Since there appears to be no way at present to reduce our public debts—unless it's to borrow from foreign countries and fail to pay them back—the government must turn its attention to keeping these debts from increasing.

This was Governor Merriam's plan when he worked out the new budget. Very few of those who have condemned his proposal say that he is wrong in seeking to balance income with expenditure. Each organization that has rapped it claims that the burden of balancing the budget has been placed on it.

This is natural. Each of these groups will fight tooth and nail to keep taxes from draining its constituents. Everyone is going to have to make up his mind, however, that when the legislature convenes on March 4, just about $154,000,000 in increased taxes will be imposed. Each and every person is going to be hit—unpleasantly.

While both labor and the Democrats want the sales tax abolished, or at least removed from food and clothing, there is a general insistence in many parts of California that this tax be maintained. It is one tax that hits everybody, and, say many legislators, to call it a tax on the poor is erroneous. Those who buy more, pay more sales tax.

Politicians talking over this form of revenue with the home folks find that, while no one likes it, most people believe it is one of the most effective means of collecting money. Certainly it is the most profitable tax that has been enacted in a long time. Each collection has exceeded estimates.

As for the state income tax proposal of Governor Merriam, the groups opposing him on most of his items, oppose him in this one because they believe it is too low.

Between-session feeling out has made legislators feel that this form of revenue will be adopted, although in a milder form than the federal income tax. In feeling the public pulse on the question of the income tax as well as every other proposed levy measure, about the only way to tell whether or not the public will accept it graciously is to find out how much they are against it. If the public is not too adverse, they will probably sanction its adoption.

Taxes must be increased or else state activities must be decreased. That is the situation in a nutshell. Since the trend of the times demands increased state activities, there is nothing left but to hike taxes into painful figures, either that or increase the public debts, paying in addition to principal, interest.

There is one other angle, an angle brought out vividly by State Controller Ray L. Riley. It shows what taxes are efficient, and those that are not. For instance, to return a dollar net to the state from liquor taxes, the state must collect $1.42. The state must collect $1.61 of truck taxes to net a dollar.

In other words, the labor of collecting liquor taxes costs 29.5 per cent of the amount collected. Truck tax overhead is 37.89 per cent.

Gasoline tax administration, on the other hand, costs .18 per cent, sales tax costs 2.5 per cent and inheritance tax collection is 3.9 per cent of the total.

Declared Riley, "Unless there is some purpose other than tax revenue production behind a tax, there certainly should be a different form of tax contrived which would relieve the taxpayer of this unreasonably high collection burden, which removes money from his pocket without benefit to the state."

The present tax burden is adroitly summed up by the business man who said, "My family used to consist of four: my wife, myself and two children. Now we are five. The additional member is invisible, yet I feed, clothe and house him. The time may not be far distant when there will be not only one but two invisible members in my household."

The Governor Acts

Sometimes Governor Merriam likes to wait for the deadline. Almost at the last minute and prompted by the federal government which had made only partial payment of relief funds, ostensibly in order to speed things, the state relief commission was formed and an SERA administrator was appointed.

The 800,000 on relief in this state were decidedly upset last week, not knowing where their next paycheck was coming from, since the federal government had not sent the full allotment of payroll money. The governor acted quickly and appointed Frank Y. McLaughlin as administrator.

He also made the two final appointments on his relief commission. These were Robert S. Hooker, Jr., San Francisco, and Carl Johnson, North Sacramento, who agreed to serve temporarily, pending the recovery of the regular appointee, Edward Heller, San Francisco, who was ill.

The remainder of the relief board includes, Dwight Murphy, Santa Barbara, chairman; Mrs. Florence Turner, state director of social welfare; Dr. Glenn E. Carlson, former welfare director of San Bernardino County; Dr. Monroe Deutsch, University of California; Maurice Harrison, San Francisco attorney, former state Democratic chairman; Dan C. Murphy, San Francisco banker; Irving Lipsitch, Los Angeles jewish welfare group secretary; and Mrs. Earl Treadwell, San Mateo.

This commission met for the first time last week and directed sale of the entire 24 million dollar bond issue, voted by the people at November's election. The entire issue will be sold April 4 and will bear interest of 3 and a half per cent.

Following the meeting came a welcome check from federal headquarters of $1,400,279. Chairman Murphy announced that the government would make an allocation of four million dollars for February, the federal treasury bolstering state relief until the bonds are ready.

While calling upon counties to submit eligible work relief projects, Administrator McLaughlin said that he would recommend a state-wide policy eliminating SERA wage competition with private agriculture and industry. Individuals who refuse private employment paying wages sufficient to meet budgetary needs will be dropped from relief rolls, he announced.

Concerning California relief, it may be said that Mrs. Florence Turner, about whom little has been heard as yet, is expected to be a fine social welfare director. Those who have come in contact with her at the Capital say that she has an intimate knowledge of the various phases of welfare work in this state.

Pending Investigations

Five investigating committees, two made up entirely of assemblymen, one of senators, and two of members of both houses are in action in different parts of California, probing conditions in various businesses and industries. Findings of these groups will be presented at the next session, appended with suggested legislation.

The committee drawing most attention so far is the one investigating the building and loan situation in California. All complaints are being investigated. So far several cases have been found in which companies have attempted to freeze out investors.

Another committee which has recently caught the public eye is the joint legislature liquor control investigating committee. While it is probing California liquor circles, the State Board of Equalization is also conducting a probe of liquor law violators. It has become almost too dengerous to sell liquor in this state, judging from the headlines. Cafe after cafe is being closed down because of violating the new law which requires that only eating places can serve hard liquor by the drink.

Then there is the senate stock yards investigating committee, inquiring into the question as to whether meat packers control California stockyards and fix prices which are not alluring to the farmers. It is going further: looking into the farming of products generally. Representatives of the packers insisted that they had nothing to do with manipulating prices paid to producers.

The special legislative committee investigating possibilities of health insurance will have their findings ready for the legislature in March. It is generally believed that some form of health insurance will be presented, depending on what the federal government does along this line.

Under fire is the State Bar, being probed by an assembly committee. The Bar's connections with politics, if any, its conducting of examinations, and other activities are being investigated.

Who says that there is no legislative activity between sessions?

"What do the Iowans think of Roosevelt's Farm Relief Program?"

"I don't know; I haven't been in Los Angeles for two years."

Mr. Otto E. Schiffner motored to San Francisco Sunday for a three days business trip.

MINING NEWS

1, Plumbago and Tightner mines in the Alleghany district, now in the Baguio district, are James Woods and Mr. Dougelby.

ICARD RANCH

Six men are employed at the Icard property west of Grass Valley, where an Ingersoll-Rand pump is unwatering the 70 foot shaft and drifts that had been filled rather rapidly from recent rains. Several men have been cutting mine timbers and as soon as the shaft is unwatered it is understood sinking will be resumed on the Abe Lincoln vein. Mr. George Icard is expected back from the Phillippines in June, but in the meantime his niece, Mrs. John Icard Kelly, is carrying on mining operations.

CLERKIN GRAVEL PROPERTY

W. E. Moulton has six men employed running a monitor on the Clerkin gravel property at Birchville handling around 2,000 yards. of gravel per day. Debris is stored in an old gravel pit nearby.

BOSS MINE

Al. Jaynes, as pumpman, is stationed at the Boss mine near North San Juan, where the shaft and the workings are being kept unwatered. This property is owned by the Bradley interests and is expected to start up before many months.

FRENCH CORRAL MINE

Sluicing continues at the French Corral gravel mine. Concentrating machinery is to be installed in order to facilitate handling of the gold bearing gravel more easily. W. E. Moulton supervises the property.

MOULTON GRAVEL

At the W. E. Moulton hydraulic property they are handling about 2,000 yards of gravel daily. It is in the Buckville district.

GRACEY-GLENCOE MINE

Six men are employed in mining and development work at the Gracey property composed of the Gracey, Glencoe and Flat Ledge claims. The 10 stamp mill on the property is handling the ore. L. W. Cheney is in charge of the property.

REMINGTON HILL PLACER

Last measurements of snow gave about 120 inches at the Remington Hill gravel property, east of Nevada City. Work of sluicing has been discontinued until the snow has melted sufficiently for operation. The flumes that bring water to the mine have been damaged to some extent by the heavy snow.

GOLDEN CENTER MINE

Cooley Butler, mining man of Los Angeles, last week recorded one of the largest deeds ever put on record in Nevada county, when he completed purchase of all holdings of the Golden Center mines, in the Grass Valley and Rough and Ready districts. He formerly held a majority of the stock. A new dry house with concrete foundation, steel frame and corrugated covering, will soon be completed, at the property.

IDAHO-MARYLAND MINES

Ore is being mined on different levels in the Idaho-Maryland mine as far down as the lowest or 2,00 foot. Ore is also being mined on different levels in the old and new Brunswick shafts, on the property. A careful plan of development is always carried out and since 1919, or reopening of the Idaho-Maryland mine, $3,000,000 has been spent in this work. Ore bodies on the immense property vary in width from two to 18 feet with the average five feet. The shaft boring machine is making much better progress as the changes and adjustments are being made on it. Errol MacBoyle is general manager.

RELIEF HILL GRAVEL

It is expected work will start at the Relief Hill gravel mine, north of Nevada City, about March 1, or as soon as sufficient snow has melted for sluicing.

SPENCEVILLE MINE

Louis Hind, of Grass Valley, and S. B. Wood, are now operating a small test cyanide plant on extensive copper dumps in the Spenceville district for the recovery of gold.

COAN PROPERTY

In an interview with Thomas Coan, mining man of Nevada City, he stated he expected to get his property, the Coan mine, in the Indian Flat section, west of Nevada City, started this spring. He has done considerable development work on the property.

SCHROEDER MINE

After partial rebuilding of mine buildings, machinery is being received at the Schroeder mine over a recently constructed road down Deer Creek. A large ball mill was taken to the property about a month ago and has been set up. A large waterwheel was taken to the mine and will furnish power for operation and generation of power.

EMPRESS MINE

Mining, development and milling of ore continues in the Empress mine in the Newtown district. There are 40 men employed under E. C. Jacobs, as superintendent.

MABEN MINE

Eight tons per day of ore averaging from $10 to $12 per ton is being mined by a crew of four. The ore is crushed in a ball mill on the property. The mine is in the Wolf Creek district below Grass Valley.

ANDERSON RANCH

Two hundred tons of ore gathered not far from an old paint plant on the Anderson ranch in the Spenceville district, was treated in the Queen Lil mill at Nevada City and averaged $12 per ton in gold.

SPRING HILL

Sinking of a 200 foot winze on the 900 foot east drift of the Spring Hill mine is making rapid progress. When completed, the mine will be 1,100 feet deep and virgin territory will be opened up. Fred M. Miller, of Grass Valley, is making surveys in order to connect up with Golden Gate drifts and workings, which the company took over in recent months. Three shifts of 22 men under Superintendent H. R. Plate, are working the property.

YOU BET MINING COMPANY

A clean-up has just been made at the You Bet gravel property east of Nevada City after several weeks of hydraulicking. Two monitors are working steadily and with the heavy rainfall the company should have an excellent season. Mr. E. A. McChie is in charge of operations.

BULLION MINE

Sixty men are employed developing and mining ore in the Bullion mine south of Grass Valley. Trucks are hauling ore night and day to the Idaho-Maryland property for milling.

PRESCOTT HILL

SCHOOL BOY

Three men are employed at the School Boy quartz mine on Gold Flat, owned by Thomas Oliver of this city. W. J. Huckins has taken over the property and cleaning out of the old shaft and tunnels is underway.

HONEY COMB MINE

James Ryan, mining man of Nevada City, returned Wednesday from a visit at the Honey Comb mine near Camptonville. A three stamp mill is being installed and more materials are to be shipped to the mine in the near future. Mr. Ryan stated the ore is good quality. Seven men are employed.

PENNSYLVANIA MINE

Twelve men are employed in sinking operations at the Pennsylvania mine in Browns Valley, and has progressed to about the 450 level. Mr. Harry Jacobs is mine foreman.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Banner Mt. Auxiliary at St. Valentine's Party

Mesdames Agnes Hoskins and Dorothy Lewis entertained jointly at a St. Valentine's party the members of Banner Mountain Post, V. F. W., Auxiliary, at the home of Mrs. Hoskins on Pine street last evening. St. Valentine's motifs and spring flowers were used to decorate the house. Refreshments in keeping with the holiday were served late in the evening.

Open House Party Given By Mr. and Mrs. Chandler

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chandler, who have returned to Nevada City after several months residence in Grass Valley, held an open house at their home on Park Avenue Sunday evening, inviting their many friends.

A St. Valentine decorative theme with carnations, roses and daffodils were used in the attractive rooms. Red and white doiles, red candles on a white table cloth made a very charming setting for the dainty luncheon of canapes, French pastries and punch.

Among those present for the occasion were: Dr. and Mrs. Walter J. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. John Ehrhorn, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Robins, Mr. and Mrs. O. McCraney, Mr. and Mrs. John Widauf, Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Jones, Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Proctor. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Langerquist, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hoge, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Walker, Mr. Robert Baker, Mesdames Ellsworth Bennetts, Otto E. Schiffner, Etta Los Kamp, James Curry, all of Nevada City; Dr. Harry N. Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. MacQuiston, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baby, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bean, all of Grass Valley.

St. Valentine's Dance Saturday Night

Another dance, this time in honor of St. Valentine, will be given Saturday night by the Nevada City Fire Department, for the benefit of Armory Hall, purchased less than two years ago by the department.

This promises to be one of those enjoyable events which the firemen so ably arrange for community entertainment. Eddie Meltz orchestra will provide the music, their own individual and popular program. Louie Kopp, chairman of the committee of arrangements, declares the firemen are fortunate to obtain this high class orchestra for the occasion. Meltz and his musicians have just completed a tour of ten states, going as far east as Illinois.

The proceeds of the dance, it is understood, will go to pay for certain repairs in which the hall stands in need.

Farewell Party For Mrs. Wergland

Mrs. Henry Wergland will be the complimented guest of a group of friends who are giving a farewell party for her this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Leland Smith on Clay street. The Smith home has been artistically decorated for the occasion in the St. Valentine motif. Mrs. Wergland and her husband and little son will leave in a few days for Porterville where they will take up their residence. Mr. Wergland has been promoted to the position of chief clerk of the Sequoia National Forest with headquarters at Porterville. Their many friends congratulate them on the promotion but regret their leaving Nevada City where they have made many friends during their year and a half residence here.

ADENAH CAMPFIRE GIRLS

Mrs. Leroy Bond, of Grass Valley, recently appointed district Camp Fire Girl Guardian, gave a most interesting talk Saturday to Ahdenah Group of Nevada City, on work of the order and projects. The girls are to attend a puppet show in Auburn February 16, and received an invitation to attend a special Camp Fire Girls meeting in Grass Valley on the 22. The candy sale the local girls held recently was a success. A business meeting is to be held at the Nevada City public library Wednesday evening. Some of the girls have completed their bead head bands.

Surprise Party for Robert Shaughnessy

A group of about twenty young people gathered and gave Robert Shaughnessy a surprise birthday party at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Williams on Park Avenue, Monday evening. The evening passed all too quickly in the playing of many games. Refreshments were served on a prettily arranged table decorated with St. Valentine motifs, and a large birthday cake as the central feature.

Supervisor's Daughter Weds Sacramento Man

Mrs. Marian Dudley Richards, daughter of E. B. Dudley, county supervisor, was married to James Lasonio, of Sacramento in the first Baptist church of that city. The Rev. Raymond L. Bailey officiated.

Miss Anne Burton was maid of honor and Lloyd Dudley, brother of the bride, was best man. Mrs. Maurice Kempster, sister of the bride, gave an informal reception for the wedding party following the ceremony at her home, 1123 G street.

Mrs. Lasonio is a graduate of the Nevada City schools and has many friends in this city and in North Bloomfield, her girlhood home, who will wish her happiness. The happy couple spent their honeymoon in Sacramento and will be at home to their friends in their residence, 1624 42nd street, Sacramento.

Mrs. Kimball Gives Dancing Party

Mrs. Kittie Kimball entertained recently in honor of her daughter, Claudia Hagist, Hal Watson, and Clifford Merriam. All guests came in costume and gathered in the large living room, the honored guests walking into a complete surprise, not recognizing the masked and costumed friends. Some of the costumes were comic and some were beautiful, Charles Elliott, as Father Time, and Frank Scott as Huckleberry Finn, were most comical.

Dancing was enjoyed until twelve o'clock when a delicious supper was served Gypsy style on individual black and silver trays. The lovely home was decorated in a profusion of yellow spring flowers.

Those present were Capt. and Mrs. Wade, A. W. Brohman, all of San Francisco; Miss Lucille Dubuque, Messrs. and Mesdames, A. M. Holmes, J. Story, Frank Scott, Mrs. Dorris Warren, Messrs. Charles Elliott, Bill Home, W. E. Meals, Clifford Merriam, Bill Meyers, William Watson, Cr., and Hal Watson.

Patriotic Program By Sixth Grade

The sixth grade pupils of the Washington grammar school are to render the following excellent program at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Miss Kate Shearer as teacher and Mrs. O. McCraney as class leader, have worked faithfully to make this an outstanding success:
